

IRIBE INITIATIVE FOR INCLUSION & DIVERSITY IN COMPUTING

i4c@umd.edu | 301-405-0411 | inclusion.cs.umd.edu

The Iribe Initiative for Inclusion and Diversity in Computing (I4C) is committed to making computing a field that includes participation of individuals across the intersections of gender identification, race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, sexual orientation, and disability status. I4C aims to create a supportive, vibrant and inclusive community of students, educators and researchers coming together to increase the involvement—and success—of all individuals from historically marginalized populations in computing. I4C serves as the lead organization for several tech-focused initiatives on campus, including Break Through Tech, RESET Project, K-12 outreach, and other current student programming.

Employer of the Month Spotlight: Market your organization to our I4C students. Across a one-month period, we spotlight a group of sponsors in our online engagement platform as well as in our marketing and branding. Digital flyers will be shared across the department. Office hours or drop-in open houses can be hosted during your spotlight.

*I4C Mentoring Program: The I4C Mentoring Program will continue in a hybrid environment with the opportunity to participate virtually. Mentoring use the Terrapin Connect platform. Registration opens in October, January, and March for 6-week sessions. Learn more here: inclusion.cs.umd.edu/programs#mentoring

A unit within the University of Maryland's Department of Computer Science, I4C supports all computing majors across campus. Break Through Tech DC at UMD, a national initiative committed to increasing gender equality in tech, is housed within I4C. I4C also supports identity-based STEM student organizations on campus such as AWC, Code: Black, and Technica. If you would like to learn more about any of the specific programs mentioned above or see past dates, we encourage you to review our annual report and our website. We look forward to partnering with you.

Please note that our partnership program is focused on expanding DEI efforts across computing at UMD. If you are interested in recruiting-specific programs, please see the CPIC partnership program.
