COMPSCICONNECT YELLOW

I4C & MCWIC Newsletter

Welcome,

By: I4C & MCWIC Staff

This year, we're kicking off our first summer back to in-person programming here at the I4C Summer Academy, and we could not be more pleased with the CompSciConnect Yellow students who are joining us on this journey.

In this issue of CompSciConnect Yellow, we will share highlights from our instructors, as well as photos from the week. (To see the full Google photo album, visit: https://go.umd.edu/YellowPhotos)

We hope this week has helped you gain confidence in your computing skills and knowledge. We can't wait to have you back with us next week!

Instructors' Corner

By: Tim Vuong, Yuan Qi, Abel Philip, Bill Ngo, Sanika Devare, Sahana Chaudhuri, & MaKaila Francois

It was a pleasure to meet our CompSciConnect Yellow students this week!

During our time together so far, we have learned about cyber safety, robotics and app development, and built strong relationships.
It's been so impressive to see the way students work together and share ideas!

We're excited for another great week and are looking forward to going to the American Visionary Arts Museum on Thursday!
